Weekend in Madrid: 1st - 3rd June 2012

Friday afternoon: Toledo, the city of the three religions

Successively a Roman municipium, the capital of the Visigothic Kingdom, a fortress of the Emirate of Cordoba, an outpost of the Christian kingdoms fighting the Moors and, in the 16th century, the temporary seat of supreme power under Charles V, Toledo is the repository of more than 2,000 years of history. Its masterpieces are the product of heterogeneous civilizations in an environment where the existence of three major religions – Judaism, Christianity and Islam – was a major factor. World Heritage

Saturday: Cordoba, the splendour of the Umayyads

In 756 the Caliph of Damascus set up his court at Cordoba and laid the foundations for the most glorious period of the city's history. He began building the Great Mosque, on the site of a Roman temple of Janus. Cordoba became the centre of a great realm renowned for its artistic and intellectual predominance and its liberal toleration of other religions, but the Caliphate collapsed after the bitter civil war of 1009-31, and only the Great Mosque survived as a symbol of its achievements. World heritage.

Sunday: Madrid, the Rastro Flea Market

"El Rastro" is held from 9am to 3pm in the historic centre of Madrid every Sunday, attracting as many locals as tourists, and offering a variety of products both new and old. Said to be the largest flea market in Europe with up to 3500 different stalls, it extends through several streets in one of the city's oldest working-class neighborhoods. Established in the Middle Ages, its hub is the Plaza de Cascorro and sprawls downhill towards the river.

Walking tour and taverns. Meeting point: Metro Puerta de Toledo, 11:00 am

Madrid Golden Mile: Prado Museum, one of the world's greatest art galleries, the Thyssen-Bornemisza Museum that go from the earliest Dutch masters to the most avant-garde trends, Caixaforum exhibition hall, and the Reina Sofía National Art Centre -contemporary art- with works by Picasso, Joan Miró, Salvador Dalí and Juan Gris among others. No guide needed
